

WATER IS LIFE NATURE IS HOME

Similan & Surin Islands - Scuba Diving and Snorkeling

Not to be missed! Truly amazing scenery - home of the most colorful fish and corals.

There are a couple of possibilities on how to see the beautiful and world renowned coral fringed islands and many operators offer different tours to the Similan and Surin islands, just ask us and we will show you the whole range, explain the options and book you on any trip you like. You have options of 1 to 8 days while you dive and / or snorkel in the warm Andaman Sea; whether you stay on the boat the whole time (live aboard excursions) or do day trips; with bigger (but slower) or fast "speed" boats.

Similan Islands Snorkel Excursion

We have been known for a couple of years now, to do a special "Snorkel 1-Day Excursion" for small groups or private charters) to the Similan Islands with our own Speedboats:

■ Pick up is early (around 7.30) and avoiding the hazel and crowds in the morning at Thap Lamu pier -the harbour south of Khao Lak-, we have built our own little jetty, tugged away in the mangrove forest. Here we will have coffee, sort out the snorkel equipment (included) and you will meet your Snorkel Guide (English, Swedish and German spoken). We strongly emphasize reef friendly behavior, so our guide will give you good explanations and an introduction into snorkeling.

■ The ride to the islands takes about an hour and once out there the captain and guide decide together where to go on that day, depending on wind direction wave height, visibility, etc. We know the Similans for a long time and truly, we take you to the best spots.

■ Between the different snorkel spots we have lunch on "Ko Miang", the island where the Princess of Thailand has her own cottage. Here you have time to explore the island a bit as well. If you are lucky, there is the endangered Nicobar pigeon, fruit bats, or the biggest land crab on earth, the hairy leg mountain crab to discover.

■ After one more snorkel stop in the afternoon we depart for Khao Lak again and once we reach our own jetty in the mangroves we have our Minibuses waiting for the transportation back to your Hotel.
